

Surgery Synopsis Reader Feedback

Below are comments we received from readers regarding our Spring 2014 issue:

“I am hoping you can mention Barclay Stewart and Lacey LaGrone in your next Surgery Synopsis - both were awarded NIH Global Health Fellowships to spend one year involved in global health clinical research (Barclay in Ghana, Lacey in Peru). I direct one of the five US consortia that direct this program Our Consortium will send 25 trainees overseas this year alone. I aspire to develop a strong flow of global health surgery trainees in the future (Matt Bartek is one of my prior trainees as well and hopes to return to Peru as a fellow).”
