

GRAND ROUNDS

PRESENTS

Improving Trauma Systems: A Macro and Micro Approach

August 3, 2022

6:30AM — 7:30AM

Rebecca Maine, MD, MPH

Assistant Professor
Division of Trauma, Burn, & Critical Care Surgery
UW Department of Surgery

Course Objectives:

1. Understand how machine learning can be applied to trauma system strengthening
2. Understand the challenges of measuring disparities in access to trauma care
3. Understand the challenges of improving pre-hospital care in LMIC

The University of Washington School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The University of Washington School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 20.0 AMA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. (Each session is 1.0 credits).

Speaker Disclosure: Dr. Maine has no financial relationships to disclose.

Planning Committee Disclosure: Drs. Wood, Marquardt, and Horvath have no financial relationship to disclose.

Department of Surgery Grand Rounds Contact: dosadmin@uw.edu